Follow Up on Conferences
Prepared on October 3, 2006

Note: Cost of staff salaries is not included

Conference:	ESA -- Manhattan Reunion 60th Anniversary of the Development of the Atomic Bomb During WWII
Location:	Elmira / Corning, NY
Dates:	June 24-26, 2004
Federal Staff:	2
Annual Leave Taken:	none
Purpose of conference:	The purpose of the conference was to bring together people involved with the Manhattan Project on a national level. The conference included several key speakers, including chemists, engineers, the city of Knoxville, the Oak Ridge Tourism Bureau, etc.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	The Division of Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation (part of DOL's Office of Workers' Compensation Programs) administers a program that provides compensation to nuclear weapons workers (including civilian workers on the Manhattan Project) and their survivors. The purpose of DOL's participation was to provide information on the program to an audience that could have a large number of potential program beneficiaries. DOL gave a PowerPoint presentation on June 26, 2004. DOL also staffed a booth with information about the program during the conference, and assisted people in completing the necessary forms to claim benefits under the program.
	This event was a 60th year reunion symposium. DOL has not participated in any subsequent meeting with this group.
Cost:	$4275.00 (Includes employees' registration fee, booth registration fee, and travel for the three DOL participants (one of whom was a contractor and therefore not counted on the original report)

Conference:	OSHA -- Youth Rules Rally
Location:	Houston, TX
Dates:	Spring 2004
Federal Staff:	6
Annual Leave Taken:	none
Purpose of conference:	This is a combination of two events that the Houston Offices participated in during 2004. USDOL and Rice University host a free "Labor Forum" each year typically in May. At this event, Rice University allows USDOL to use Classroom space to make presentations to stakeholders concerning USDOL Topics. This Outreach Forum is held during working hours and has no additional cost to USDOL.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	The Youth Rules Rally is a partnership between USDOL, the City of Houston, EEOC and the Gulf Coast Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers. It is based on USDOL Secretary Chou's youth initiative. This event is held annually at the George R. Brown Convention Center (in space donated by the City of Houston). This event is typically held in the spring of each year, before school is out of session.

Cost:	For these events, the total cost to USDOL is the salary costs of the presenters / assistants; the cost of the outreach materials distributed to the participants, and the use of the USDOL OSHA and ESA booths (no charge for the booth space at either event.)
Conference:	OSHA -- Heritage of India Festival 2004
Location:	Valhalla, NY
Dates:	August 8, 2004
Federal Staff:	3
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	To inform and educate the community. The Indian Cultural Program included informational booths on government services, health services, vendors—cultural food, clothing and other articles; and cultural entertainment.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	To educate and inform the community about OSHA; to provide safety and health information, publications, and answer questions for a large, diverse population. Labor participates annually.
Cost:	$200 (Note: OSHA had a complimentary booth this year.)
Conference:	OSHA -- Hispanic Heritage Day
Location:	White Plains, NY
Dates:	August 1, 2004
Federal Staff:	1
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	To educate and inform the community. The Hispanic Cultural Program included informational booths about government services, health services, vendors—cultural food, clothing and other articles; and cultural entertainment.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	OSHA targets the Hispanic Community for outreach because of an increase in Hispanic worker fatalities. By providing a booth at this event, OSHA is able to educate and inform the community about OSHA; to provide safety and health information, publications, and answer questions for a large population. Labor participates annually.
Cost:	$100 (Note: We had a complimentary booth this year.)

Conference:	OSHA -- Latino Americano Festival
Location:	Syracuse, NY
Dates:	August 21-22, 2004
Federal Staff:	4
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	This event was identified because OSHA had a booth. This is an event where the general public comes to visit, make purchases and obtain information from a variety of vendors. The Hispanic Cultural Program included informational booths on government services, health services, vendors—cultural food, clothing and other articles; and cultural entertainment.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	OSHA targets the Hispanic Community for outreach because of an increase in Hispanic worker fatalities. By providing a booth at this event, OSHA is able to inform and educate the community; to provide safety and health information, publications and to answer questions for a large, diverse population. Labor participates annually.
Cost:	$50
Conference:	OSHA -- Meadowlands Fair Flea Market
Location:	East Rutherford, NJ
Dates:	FY 2004 -- The flea market goes from May - Mid- October - 6 days a week but OSHA had people there only on Wednesday and Saturdays from the last week in June to last week in September.
Federal Staff:	11
Annual Leave Taken:	No overnight travel is involved.
Purpose of conference:	This event was identified because OSHA purchased a booth. This is an event where the general public comes to visit, make purchases and obtain information from a variety of vendors.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	Because a large number of people attended this event, including a large number of people from the Hispanic Community in the Northern NJ/ NYC Area, this event is ideal for outreach to a population which faces a high rate of workplace injury. OSHA set up a table and distributed literature about OSHA and safety and health. Labor participates annually.
Cost:	$20 for table / booth space
Conference:	OSHA -- Puerto Rico Federal Safety and Health Congress / Expo
Location:	San Juan, PR
Dates:	August 2-5, 2004
Federal Staff:	13 people
Annual Leave Taken:	One individual took one day of annual leave after the conference but did not remain in Puerto Rico. Individual had a subsequent 2 week vacation planned beginning the next Monday so took annual leave on the Friday after the conference before beginning his scheduled vacation.

Purpose of conference:	This is an "OSHA Sponsored" conference in support of the Federal Councils which promote safety and health in the Federal sector.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	Of the 13 people in attendance, 4 were from the local Puerto Rico office working the conference and the OSHA booth. With the exception of an area director, they were mostly in and out a very short time to assist and then departed to conduct routine work.
Cost:	$21,755
Conference:	OSHA -- St. Croix Rotary Club Conference
Location:	St. Croix, VI
Dates:	December 18, 2003
Federal Staff:	One person
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	This event was described as a conference because we provided a speaker. It was simply a standard, single day speech at a local Rotary Club luncheon meeting.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	OSHA's Puerto Rico Area Office works on both St. Croix and St. Thomas. Since OSHA does not maintain an office on either island, PR staff travel between the islands as the work load (enforcement, consultation & outreach) dictates.
Cost:	$588
Conference:	ESA -- Youth Rules Rally
Location:	Houston, TX
Dates:	March 17, 2005
Federal Staff:	8
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	The goal of the Youth Rules Rally is to improve public awareness (teens, parents, and businesses) of youth employment laws, with a focus on increasing compliance with youth employment standards.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	The purpose of Labor participation is to improve public awareness of the Fair Labor Standards Act -- Child Labor Provisions. This has become an annual event.
Cost:	$1,529

Conference:	ESA -- Youth Rules Rally
Location:	San Antonio, TX
Dates:	April 2, 2005
Federal Staff:	5
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	The goal of the Youth Rules Rally is to improve public awareness (teens, parents, and businesses) of youth employment laws, with a focus on increasing compliance with youth employment standards.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	The purpose of Labor participation is to improve public awareness of the Fair Labor Standards Act – Child Labor Provisions. This has become an annual event.
Cost:	$532

Conference:	OSHA -- Meadowlands Fair Flea Market
Location:	East Rutherford, NJ
Dates:	FY 2004 -- The flea market goes from May - Mid- October - 6 days a week but OSHA had people there only on Wednesday and Saturdays from the last week in June to last week in September.
Federal Staff:	11
Annual Leave Taken:	No overnight travel was involved.
Purpose of conference:	This event was identified because OSHA purchased a booth. This is an event where the general public comes to visit, make purchases and obtain information from a variety of vendors.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	Because a large number of people attended this event, including a large number of people from the Hispanic Community in the Northern NJ/ NYC Area, this event is ideal for outreach to a population which faces a high rate of workplace injury. OSHA set up a table and distributed literature about OSHA and safety and health. Labor participates annually.
Cost:	$20 for table/booth space

Conference:	OSHA -- New York State Fair
Location:	Syracuse, NY
Dates:	FY 2005
Federal Staff:	20 local staff members who worked two to a shift over the course of the fair adding up to a total of 20 worker shifts not, 20 individual employees.
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	Because OSHA paid booth fees, the New York State Fair was identified as a conference. This was an event that offered an opportunity to reach an extremely large number of employers and employees with an annual estimated attendance of close to one million people.

Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	This was the New York State Fair where OSHA did have a booth, answered questions about safety and health and gave out OSHA pamphlets. During our annual Outreach Planning session (for FY 05) it was decided that we should attend to try and get OSHA's Safety and Health message out to the public. Labor does not participate annually -- at our FY 06 Outreach Planning meeting, we did a basic cost/benefit review and as a result we did not do this event in 2006.
Cost:	Booth cost- $1,785 for a 12 day rental. No travel costs were associated with this event, save normal commuting mileage for those driving their own vehicles, as no overnight stays were required.

Conference:	Women's Bureau -- Association for Gender Equity Leadership in Education 26th Annual National Conference
Location:	Honolulu, HI
Dates:	FY 2005 July 24-27 2005
Federal Staff:	1 (Region 9, San Francisco Regional Administrator attended)
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	• Leadership and advocacy...to ensure the infusion of equity principals into educational programs and services. • Professional development...to connect equity research and practice, and broaden the knowledge base and support system for members. • Collaboration, networking and outreach...to build broader constituencies and influence other organizations and associations. •
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	• Conducted a workshop at the conference on "Expanding Opportunities through Women's Bureau 21st Century Initiatives". • In conjunction with the conference, the Women's Bureau's held a Regional Women's Leadership Forum in partnership with the local One Stop organization. This was part of our 2 year Women's Bureau Program Initiative held in every state that impacted more than 1480 participants. This event drew leaders from the area to learn about current Women's Bureau programs and how to tap into our projects and resources. • Met with participants from Region 10 as part of new regional administrator assignment in Seattle area. The Women's Bureau does not participate annually.
Cost:	$1,340

Conference:	Women's Bureau -- Displaced Homemakers Conference
Location:	Milwaukee, WI
Dates:	FY 2005 March 8-9, 2005
Federal Staff:	2 (Region 5, Chicago Regional Administrator and the Program Specialist attended)

Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	Training conference for WI Tech colleges and Displaced Homemakers program employees.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	Women's Bureau Regional Administrator was invited as a speaker to share about the WB programs. Women's Bureau does not participate annually.
Cost:	$805

Conference:	ETA -- Strategies for Economic Development: Keys to Success in the 21st Century
Location:	Hanoi, Vietnam
Dates:	September 18-20, 2006
Federal Staff:	Five (4 from ETA; 1 from ILAB)
Annual Leave Taken:	One participant took four days of leave; one participant took 2 days of leave.
Purpose of conference:	This conference was held in conjunction with Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC). Vietnam hosted the 2006 APEC under the theme of "Towards a Dynamic Community for Sustainable Development and Prosperity." Vietnam has been a full member of APEC since 1998. There are four sub-themes: • Enhanced Trade and Investment with the Busan Roadmap and Doha Development • Strengthen Economic and Technical Cooperation for Gap Bridging and Sustainable Development • Improve Secure and Favorable Business Environment • Promote Community Linkages
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	Frequency: One time. Purpose: Developing strong political engagement at key APEC events and advancing APEC as the premier regional forum for the United States. Participation at this conference laid the groundwork for strong deliverables on US government priorities at the APEC leaders meeting in November in Hanoi, which the President will attend. • The Department of State invited the Department of Labor to design a conference presentation to support the sub-theme of "Strengthen Economic and Technical Cooperation for Gap Bridging and Sustainable Development." • Using federal staff and 8 non-federal experts, DOL conducted workshops on important elements of workforce development such as the provision of income support to unemployed workers, the role of entrepreneurialism in economic growth strategies; the role of workforce and labor market information in helping workers understand high growth employment and career opportunities and their corresponding skill needs, and also how it is important to develop the youth workforce pipeline. • This initiative focused on improving human capacity and skills in the APEC region. The intent was to share information with the APEC economies – particularly developing and middle income economies – by conveying fundamental techniques and principles of public-private partnerships and explaining the operation of demand-driven services designed to address labor market inefficiencies.

Conference Information/Background Rationale:

- The State Department invited the Employment & Training Administration to participate in an international dialogue with fellow Asian Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) member economies, and to jointly sponsor this conference with the government of Vietnam. The Department/ETA was assisted by the U.S. Embassy staff, for all of their help in preparing for and hosting the conference.
- The theme of the conference, "Strategies for Workforce Development: Keys to Success was designed to assist developing economies because globalization is rapidly transforming economic structures around the world, creating millions of new jobs in industries that did not even exist a decade ago.
- The United States is a member economy from APEC and is in the process of transforming its economy and its public workforce system.
- Vietnam is currently experiencing high economic growth, leading to an increased demand for more skilled workers. Accession to the World Trade Organization will only hasten Vietnam's economic integration into the world economy.
- To remain competitive in the global economy, it is critical that all member economies develop innovative strategies for educating and training a prepared workforce for the high growth, high skilled jobs of the 21st century economy.
- The United States has strived to build a public workforce system that is "demand-driven" – preparing and training the highly skilled workers that businesses need to be competitive and to thrive in today's economy. Over the past five years, we have focused our investments on promoting the development of collaborative partnerships between the public workforce, economic development and education systems to better understand how we can educate and train a workforce to meet the talent demands of businesses.
- The conference's agenda was designed to provide Vietnam and the other economies with information on several key aspects of workforce development that affect us all: the 21st century global economy; the fundamentals of building a public workforce system; strategies to create innovative public-private partnerships that address workforce challenges, and understand the role of public and private training providers in educating workers to meet the skills needs of employers.
- ETA conducted workshops on important elements of workforce development such as the provision of income support to unemployed workers, the role of entrepreneurialism in economic growth strategies; the role of workforce and labor market information in helping workers understand high growth employment and career opportunities and their corresponding skill needs, and also how it is important to develop the youth workforce pipeline.
- Two "case studies" were presented: Vietnam's workforce opportunities in today's global economy, and an in-depth look at the Microsoft Topic 64 initiative, which is an example of a public-private partnership for workforce development.
- Fourteen of the 21 APEC economies were represented and experts in workforce development lead the plenary sessions and workshops presenting concrete examples and timely information from Australia, Canada, Peru, Thailand, the United States, and Vietnam.

Cost: $210,089 (including travel for 13 personnel and logistics cost for participant workshops)

Conference:	OSHA -- Hong Kong's OSHA conference
Location:	Hong Kong, China
Dates:	February 26-28, 2006
Federal Staff:	One person
Annual Leave Taken:	The employee did not use any leave in connection with the conference.
Purpose of conference:	The Ministry of Labor in Hong Kong requested OSHA's participation at their Safety and Health conference to discuss the following: • OSH standards and enforcement in the construction industry, particularly SMEs and small-scale building repair/renovation; • OSH standards and enforcement in theme park operations; • OSHA's application of safety management approaches in sizeable construction projects and manufacturing establishments.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	An OSHA employee was asked to visit Hong Kong and deliver 3 speeches as part of the Secretary's Information Exchange Initiative. The speeches were: • Overview of OSHA Construction; • Partnerships, Alliances, APP./APP.-C and the OSHA Challenge; • Theme Park Construction Safety & Operation Safety. The first two speeches, each an hour and a half in length were delivered to audiences of over 500 people and the last speech was delivered during a 4 hour lecture meeting with the top executives from Hong Kong's Ministry of Labor and Hong Kong OSHA, approximately 26 people were in attendance.
Cost:	$4,416 (Invited by the government of Hong Kong, an OSHA employee attended Hong Kong's OSHA conference in February 2006. The government of Hong Kong paid for part of the trip and the State Department approved it.)

Conference:	OSHA -- Governor's Conference, US Virgin Islands OSHA
Location:	St. Thomas, VI
Dates:	February 7-9, 2006
Federal Staff:	OSHA actually shows 7 attendees, all of whom were representatives from Region II which has responsibility for the USVI.
Annual Leave Taken:	None
Purpose of conference:	The Governor of the USVI asked OSHA to assist/run this conference in his attempt to bring occupational safety and health issues to the fore in his territory and to help improve their occupational safety program.

Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	OSHA staff made a number of presentations at the conference as well as providing hands-on safety and health training for the USVI safety and health staff. Several attendees also met separately with representatives of the Governor's staff to review OSHA's concerns about the management of their program.
Cost:	$13,428

Conference:	MSHA -- AIOH Conference 2005, Australian Institute of Occupational Hygienists
Location:	Terrigal, NSW, Australia
Dates:	December 3-7, 2005 plus NSW Standing Dust Committee Meeting on December 8
Federal Staff:	One person -- invited Keynote Speaker Melinda Pon (Note: one of several U.S. speakers. Dr. John Howard, NIOSH, and John Henshaw, formerly OSHA, now private citizen, were also keynote speakers along with another 3 or 4 individuals.)
Annual Leave Taken:	5 days (December 9, 12, 13, 14, and 15)
Purpose of conference:	The Australian Institute of Occupational Hygienists (AIOH) is a not-for-profit professional organization similar to the American Industrial Hygiene Association and the American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists in the United States of America. The objective of AIOH is to help ensure that workplace health hazards are eliminated or controlled by promoting the profession of occupational hygiene in industry, government and the general community, improving the practice of occupational hygiene and the knowledge, competence and standing of its practitioners and providing a forum for the exchange of occupational hygiene information and ideas.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	AIOH invited attendee to "provide the Australian occupational hygienists with an overview as to how MSHA is addressing the issue of worker exposure to respirable dust, respirable quartz, noise and diesel particulate within the U.S. mining industry." The title of the presentation was "Miners' Health Update from the US Perspective." Copy is available if needed. Discussions were held with Australian industry, labor and regulatory occupational hygienists and practitioners, particularly in the coal mining states of Queensland and New South Wales, on the respirable dust and quartz monitoring practices, regulatory compliance and compensation requirements, and prevention and control procedures to limit coal miners' exposure to respirable coal dust and quartz. Additionally, discussions were held on the non-existence of black lung cases in Australia and the prevalence of silicosis, as compared to the US experience. Australian occupational health and safety professionals on the issues related to miner substance abuse, Australian codes of practice and fitness for work programs as well as the labor's perspective on the adequacy of the existing requirements and precautionary words of advice for the US moving forward on regulating alcohol and illegal and illicit substances in the workplace. Information was obtained from Australian regulatory, industry and labor health and safety professionals on the Australian and state statutory requirements and guidelines on the use of remote-control mining equipment, including proximity detection, and risk protocols for the safe operation of surface and underground mobile equipment in the coal mining environment.

Cost:	Attendee traveled on official U.S. Government business. This matter has been discussed with SOL, and was approved by senior officials at ILAB, SOL (ethics), OASAM and MSHA. The paperwork, including the invitation and all necessary approvals is available if needed. AIOH covered all air, hotel and land costs. AIOH also covered the costs for registration, accommodation, meals and conference social functions.

Conference:	MSHA -- Atlantic Alliance Meeting, Health and safety Authority, Ireland and health and Safety Exec of Northern Ireland
Location:	Dundalk, Ireland
Dates:	June 20-21, 2006
Federal Staff:	2 people
Annual Leave Taken:	2 days (June 22 and 23)
Purpose of conference:	The Atlantic Alliance is a structured international organization established to promote a network to advance the safety, health, and welfare of persons working in the quarry industry. The Atlantic Alliance identifies and shares best practices, information, experiences, and innovation in the areas of safety and health for the quarry industry. Members include governmental agencies with responsibility for safety and health in this sector and nongovernmental organizations from Germany, Ireland, England and the United States of America. The Atlantic Alliance formed the model for the ongoing successful alliance between MSHA and the National Stone, Sand and Gravel Association. The annual Atlantic Alliance conference held in rotating countries is designed to motivate an exchange of information on a continuous basis and to build a platform for regularly matching work safety needs and solutions between the respective organizations of the participants. The conference deals with critical safety and health issues in the quarry industry and promotes measures and initiatives to secure a reduction in accidents and illnesses. Issues addressed at the conference included: asbestos /nonasbestos, silica, vibration and noise directives, and drugs and alcohol.
Purpose of DOL participation and if annual:	As a leading safety and health organization, MSHA is committed to developing the best approaches to health and safety. By actively participating at this conference, MSHA solidifies its position as a leader in the industry and benefits from the shared ideas that have proven effective elsewhere. For example, MSHA learned that the quarrying industry in the UK adopted a "Hard Target" initiative several years ago and has dramatically reduced their injuries as a result. Ideas were shared on how the other member countries could do the same. A website is currently being developed to share "best practices" between the member countries. At the conference MSHA learned that equipment manufacturers were promoting safety features on equipment used in Europe that was not being offered for installation on similar equipment in the United States. For example, a major manufacturer of heavy equipment was promoting windshields that extended to the floorboard on some models of heavy equipment used in Europe. The extended windshield eliminated a blind spot for the operator, and coincidentally helped resolve another issue, identifying whether the equipment operator was wearing a seatbelt. MSHA put pressure on the manufacturer to include the extended windshield on models sold in the United States. The manufacturer is now making the extended windshield available in the United States. Finally, following on this experience with MSHA that developed from the Atlantic Alliance, the equipment manufacturer's association concluded that a safety alliance with MSHA would be beneficial, and the safety alliance is in the process of being formed. MSHA would hope to use this alliance to promote the use of cameras to eliminate all hazardous blind spots on heavy equipment.

Cost:	$7,250
